

CREDITON TOWN COUNCIL

A message from Cllr Frank Letch, Town Mayor and Chairman of the Council

After yet another severe winter Crediton's roads were as full of potholes as the year before. The town council and town clerk pressed Devon County Council's highways department to fill them in as quickly as possible. The first wave of potholes was repaired but there are still many potholes around the town. Fortunately the highways engineer has been around looking at the problems and we are confident that soon all remaining potholes will be filled.

Early in the year it was my pleasure to go along to the Congregational Church for the launching of "Journey", a small group of counsellors who were going to offer their services for those people who cannot normally afford counselling. This is yet another example of the caring side of Crediton.

As spring and then summer approach I hope that visitors to Crediton and its residents will appreciate the efforts and planning of the town council's Floral Working Group. Its members are drawn from town councillors and members of the public and it is funded from the town council's budget with the help of grant aid, sponsorship and contributions from our partners. This year, for the first time, the group will be helping to co-ordinate the planting schemes for all three providers (Chamber of Commerce, the Town Council and Mid Devon District Council). It is planned to enhance the town entrances, to have the High Street a blaze of colour and the town square looking seasonally floral.

April the 12th will see the mayor's reception, which will again be held in the Boniface Centre. A few people have approached me to ask if this reception is not an extravagance at a time of severe economic struggle. This reception is my chance, on behalf of the town council and our community, to thank the many people, charities and organizations that help make Crediton the pleasant town it is.

May the 5th is a very important day for the town; this is Election Day. The people of Crediton will be voting for their 12 town councillors, the four district councillors and also voting in the referendum on the proposed new voting system. It is very important that people cast their vote because achieving a full electoral mandate gives councillors the confidence they need to make decisions that are truly representative. I hope we have a good number of candidates putting themselves forward so that voters have a real choice. Voting is the best way of making your feelings known and may help the council to progress its work to maintain the quality of life that we enjoy in our lovely town.

The Red House – some support-worker time saved

The Red House at the west end of the High Street provides a small number of units of accommodation for young people who need to learn to lead independent lives in the community. It is run by Westcountry and Signpost Housing Associations with financial support from Devon County Council and Mid Devon District Council.

For the last few years the funding from the local authorities has been sufficient to provide a full-time support worker. In the past, problems have occurred in the local area and the support worker is seen by many as being an essential part of the successful running of this housing provision for young people.

Changes to local authority budgets have put future funding for this project under close scrutiny. Following concerns from local councillors, discussions took place with the tenants and their support worker and subsequently senior officers from the county and district councils were contacted as well as the local MP.

As a result, a new funding package has been put together which will allow the support worker to continue for up to three days a week. However, the proposed service is still less than previously existed.

The town council will continue to keep in touch with The Red House as its success is important to the local community.

South West in Bloom – coming to Crediton?

It's many years since Crediton took part in the regional section of the Britain in Bloom competition run by the Royal Horticultural Society. The three parts of the competition are horticulture, environment and community – it's not just a question of having the biggest and best floral displays in obvious public areas.

Over the last few years the town council's Floral Crediton Working Group has been improving the floral displays and other planting throughout the town from its entrances to the main shopping areas. The council is now considering entering the competition again and it will certainly give the Working Group something to aim for.

The last boulder was placed on the A377 roundabout earlier this year to complete the landscaping and planting.

Floral decoration and improvement to the environment are the parts of the town council's Town Plan that receive the most enthusiastic and consistent support from local people so we are confident that further improvements will be welcomed throughout the town.

As the seasons progress the new plants on the roundabouts will fill out and give colour throughout the year.

Pot holes – ongoing repairs

The town mayor has mentioned the continuing problem in his message. Since January 2010, 200,000 potholes have been filled across Devon. The county has received extra funds to help deal with the damage caused to the road infrastructure by last winter's severe weather and this funding will enable further repairs.

In brief...

- The Farmer's market – more markets this summer! For an experimental period of three months there will be an extra Farmers Market on the third Friday of April, May and July. In June the town square was already booked by....
- Crediton Arts Centre – Summer in the Square! The Arts Centre is organising a whole host of events in June, beginning with the Big Sunday Lunch on 5th June. In the following week the auditorium will be constructed on the square and the next two weeks will see a variety of music and performance events from local youth groups, schools, choirs and bands. The events culminate with The Shaughraun by Dion Boucicault which will be performed over four nights from Wednesday 22nd to Saturday 25th June – so get ready to join in, get your feet tapping, watch the fun and appreciate the talents of the town.
- The Annual Town Meeting ... Tuesday, June 14th This is your chance to raise any town matters that you think are important and to keep up to date with current and future plans for the town. Please contact the town clerk for details on how to raise issues at the meeting and take an active part in the future of the town.
- Plans for People's Park are progressing ... Council officers and an architect are helping to develop ideas. Anyone from the local community who would like to be involved is invited to contact the town clerk.
- Crediton Traffic Action Group AGM Wednesday 18th May, 7.30 at the Rugby Club. To update on the current situation with road planning in Crediton and to look at the role for CTAG as plans progress.
