

Public Participation Policy

Introduction

Members of the public have a legal right to attend decision making meetings of Credition Town Council (CTC) and its committees, except where they are excluded for specific items which need to be discussed in confidence, for example staffing matters or tenders for contracts.

Members of the public have no legal right to speak at meetings of CTC and its committees and so when they are allowed to do so it is considered a privilege. CTC sets aside time for public participation during which members of the public may make a representation, contribution, suggestion or ask a question. Councillors with a prejudicial interest in an agenda item may speak during public participation (and then leave the room when the item is considered).

Other than when invited to do so by the Chairman, members of the public are not permitted to speak at the meeting as this confuses the roles of councillors, who participate in the meeting, and members of the public who observe it. If there is a possibility that a large number of people will wish to speak, the Chairman will encourage people not to repeat comments made by earlier speakers or ask for a single representative to be appointed.

Public participation takes place near the start of the meeting immediately after declaration of interests to make everyone aware if a member has a prejudicial interest. The time for public participation shall be outlined on the agenda.

It is recognised that some members of the public may abuse the opportunity to speak. While the Chairman will endeavour to ensure an answer to a question, this may be refused if continuous representations are made or repetitive questions asked. Neither councillors nor officials are under any obligation to respond immediately or at all to comments or questions made during public participation.

The Chairman's decision to allow a question or require an answer to be given will be final. Members of the public do not have a right to force items onto the council agenda. The public have a legal right to attend council and committee meetings but do not have a right to disrupt them. Members of the public should not heckle or otherwise disrupt and must respect the rulings of the Chairman. As per CTC's Standing Orders, if person(s) disregard the request of the chair of the meeting to moderate or improve their conduct, any councillor or the chair of the meeting may move that the person be no longer heard or be excluded from the meeting<sup>12</sup>. The motion, if seconded, shall be put to the vote without discussion.

Rules

A maximum of thirty minutes will be set aside for public participation at a meeting. Each member of the public may speak for no more than three minutes.

The conduct of public participation will be regulated by the Chairman having regard to the guidelines set out but with the right of discretion reserved. An extension of this time limit is at the sole discretion of the Chairman.

The Chairman's decision on the relevance of a representation or question and on the method of dealing with any issue in connection with this procedure will be final. This includes the Chairman's decision to allow a representation or question or require an answer to be given.

Questions must be clear and concise and be relevant to matters for which CTC has powers or duties.

Questions, representations, contributions or suggestions should not:

- Contain offensive expressions or be personal or verbal attacks on any staff or member of the Council
- Divulge, or require the answer to divulge confidential or exempt information
- Repeat questions or representations previously asked at earlier meetings unless there has been a material change of circumstances.

No debate will be allowed on any question or the response thereto.

Any person excluded from a meeting will lose the privilege of addressing any meeting for a period of twelve months or until such time as the Council may decide otherwise.

Other Ways To Ask Questions

Members of the public should be aware that rather than bringing questions to the entire Council and other members of the public during public question time, questions may also be addressed, during business hours by the Town Clerk's office, or via the Mayor or your ward councillors. These methods of communication are encouraged when more detailed dialogue is required than three minutes allow; the council meeting is not the correct forum for conducting long debates between councillors and members of the public.
